The fish-caters near Pyramid lake told me at Christ had appeared on earth again, bey said Christ knew he was coming; that went of his children were also compared that Christ had appeared that Christ admin me to go there and that was why, unrecively, I took my journey. It had been reordained. They told me when I got there at my greatfather was there also, but I did a know who he was. The people assembled, liled a council and the chief's sons went so the great father, who sent word to us to rein fourteen days in that camp and that then would come and see us. Just after dark, some if the Indians told me that Christ, falher, was arrived. I looked around to find him, and faally saw him sitting on one side of the mar. He was dressed in a white coat, with stopes; the rest of his dress was a white man's, steept that he had on a pair of meccasins. Then he commenced our dance, everybody sining in, the Christ singing while we danced. We danced till late in the night, when he told us we had danced enough. The next morning he told us he was going that day, but would be back the next morning and talk to us. I heard that Christ had been crucified, and I looked to see, and I saw a scar on his size and size on his face, and he seemed to be the man. I could not see his feet. He could talk to us all day. That evening we were assembled he cegan to sing, and he commenced to tremble all over violently for shile, and then sat down. We danced all light, the Christ lying down beside us, aparently dead. THE SENATOR'S OPINION.

Dolph, of Oregon, Says the Lodge Bill Will Not Bo Passed.

RICHMOND, Va., November 19 .- [Special.]-United States Senator Joseph N. Dolph, of Oregon, who came down from Washington to attend the Masonic Scottish Rite reunion, which closed last night with a grand banquet, returned to the national capital this afternoon. I had a pleasant chat with him just as he was about to board the north-bound train.

Mr. Dolph is a republican, serving his second term in the senate. He is a lawyer by profession, and was Henry Villard's representative in Oregon, being vice president or director of all the Villard lines. The conversation naturally drifted to political matters, and I asked the senate of the conversation of the asked the senator if he thought Lodge's election bill would pass the senate. He said it would not. He seemed to be quite decided on that point. He said the reapportionment bill would probably be the measure of most ab-sorbing interest in congress this winter. He thought the house was too large and unwieldy now, but he could not say what sort of a bill would pass. The senate would be apt to concur in whatever the house decided was best.

When asked if Mr. Blaine would be the re publican nominee in 1892, Senator Dolph said that was too hard a question to answer. He said he would rather guess on the question of the democratic nomination. Although he could only narrow that down to two-Cleveland He had long been a personal friend of Hill. The two read law together in New York. He spoke of Hill as a man of great political shrewdness and of decided ability. The senator is a very fine looking man, tall and well proportioned, with a heavy iron-gray beard. He received many courtesies while here, and this morning he called on Grand Secretary William B. Isaacs, at the latter's office, corner of Ninth and Main, to pay his respects, as he is the representative of the grand lodge of Virginia, while Mr. Dolph represents the

the Candidates Stand. Montgomery, Ala., November 19.—The joint caucus adjourned at 10 o'clock without having made a nomination. The figures tele-graphed you show that the Seay boom has set in and the supporters of the governor say the ground swell will take place early in the engagement tomorrow night. Seay's position in the struggel is in every way desirable. He has a strenght which will not be wheedled, cajoled or terrified and his managers are in the highest state of exultation. It is evident that there was nuch political trickery during tonight's balloting, but if that is the game Seay is the beneficiary, as he quits with the prestige of the highest vote he has yet received in the fight, which is a strong card and will be skilfully played by his supporters between the time of adjournment tonight and assembling tomorrow

Pugh's friends are throwing themselves into the struggle now with a vim and while there were seven votes short of his highest at the time of quitting they say it signifies nothing and that he will go in with a whoop at the proper time.

The supporters of Commissioner Kolb form a solid phalanx earnestly devoted to his interests and seemingly in the highest accord with anything which he may feel is to his advantage. If they stick to Kolb as they say they will, and as they apparently are doing, the struggle may be prolonged for many days yet. Governor Watts has a following devoted but very small, and his only chance of success is the bare one that the caucus may be wearied into giving him the nomination, after a prolonged deadlock, as a compromise candidates Following are the last three hallots:

THE PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCES Of the Editorial Association in Session in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., November 18.—[Special.]—A very strong Cleveland sentiment permeates the press of the Old Dominion. The newspapers are almost a unit in favor of his nomination for the presidency two years hence. They seem to fairly reflect the sentiment of the communities in which they are published. nniunities in which they are published. communities in which they are published.

Members of the State Press Association now in session here were spoken to this evening on the subject of who will receive the nomination in '92. Thirty-five express the belief that it will be Cleveland. Some of them think it possible that Hill may be so strong in New York as to gain on the ex-president, but on the whole they incline to the belief that the latter will win. One of the other two thinks Cleveland should be the man and predicts that if the contest between him and Hill is very close Pattison, of Pennsylvania, may walk in. Several referred to him and Campboll, of Ohio, as good presidential timber, and the latter was more frequently than any one else spoken of as the most available man for the second place. A great many are in favor of Hill going to the senate from New York, and giving the nomination to Cleveland, who Members of the State Press Association nov

Carolina Girl.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 19.—Special.]—News was received here today of the elopement of Mary, alias Polly Johnson, daughter of Starling Johnson, a white man living near Clayton, Johnston county, with Henry White, a negro, who for ten years had been a laborer on Johnson's farm. The girl is young and the negro is about twenty years old. He is a son of a white woman who some years ago came to Raleigh from Warren county. Last night at 10 o'clock the Johnson girl got quietly out of her father's house and was driven in her father's buggy to Raleigh. Here they took the train soon after midnight, the man procuring a ticket to Greensboro and the girl one to Richmond. They told a negro woman here named Lockhart, who is White's cousin, that they were going to Boston, where they could marry. Whise told the Lockhart woman the girl's own brother had brought them here. The Lockhart woman went with them to the train, and bought their tickets. The matter was faild before the police today, and they are making efforts to secure the arrest of the cloping couple. Houston, Tex., November 18.—[Special.]—
A very bad state of affairs has been in existence on the Gulf. Colorado and Sante Fe railway for some time, and since the recent changes of officials all the discrepancies have come to light. It appears that, through some means, the road has been defrauded out of $180,000 worth of cotton, and that during the present cotton season some eighty-five carthe present cotton season some eighty-five car-loads of compressed cotton have gone astray. The officials will only say that the above is true, and will not divulge what evidence they collected against suspected parties, who are in the main trusted employes. The shrinkage has been systematically going on, and the com-pany is in possession of all the necessary facts, which will be sprung when the time comes.

THE OLD PLANTATION.

Captain Hugh Colquitt's New Scheme-How It Works. CHATTANOGA, Tenn., November 19.—[Special.]—Captain Hugh Colquitt, of Georgia, in connection with a number of local capitalists, has bought 3,400 acres of land on the East Tennessee road, this side of Ooltewah, for the purpose of erecting a "King Cotton's palace." The idea is to have and maintain an old-time cottom plantation, worked in the manner of the original southern cotton fields, and the company expects to make the cotton, product of the original southern cotton fields, and the company expects to make the cotton product more than pay the expense of the enterprise. The purpose is to make the plantation a point of interest for people from all sections to visit, and to exhibit the primitive cotton industry in all its stages, and operated by the primitive negroes as far as obtainable.

Mrs. Ellen J. Phinney, of Cleveland, Ö. There were present about 100 delegates, many not having reached the city in time for the opening of the convention. The convention will be in session all the week. Considerable discussion is quietly going on relative to the next president of the organization. It was generally believed that Mrs. Phinney would succeed herself, but a quiet movement has been inaugurated in favor of Mrs. Foster, and the contest now seems inevitable.

The Sun's Cotton Review. New YORK, November 19.—Futures opened at ten points' decline on near months and partially one point advance on late months from yester-day's closing prices. The early decline was due not only to the sharp break that took place in not only to the sharp break that took place in Liverpool, but to a renewal of the disturbing financial news from London, where the Bank of England was making some difficulty respecting the acceptances of Baring Bros. When November options sold at 9 cents there was great cheering from the begars, as this price won for them many wagers, but there was a quick rally, aided by a partial recovery a Liverpool.

PROFESSOR KOCH TO RECEIVE A TITLE OF NOBILITY

FROM THE HANDS OF THE EMPEROR. The Demand for the Lymph So Grea

that the Supply Is Exhausted-Foreign News Generally. BERLIN, November 19 .- As a reward for his services in the interests of the medical science, the emperor will probably confer a title of nobility upon Professor Koch. The professor states that the government must pr lymph used in the cure of tuberculosis.

morrow's number of The German Medical Weekly will contain an article signed by Bergmann, Fraentzel and William Lesly and Staff Surgeon Moehl, in which they declare, after experiments in many different cases, they are prepared to fully endorse Professor Koch's statement regarding his remedy.

Some of the evening papers warn the public against the illusions entertained by many regarding the efficacy of Koch's remedy. They also complain that the stock of lymph is being exhausted. The Tageblatt says that Koch's procedure s

A WONDERFUL REMEDY. Professor Koch Describes His Care for

Consumption. BERLIN, November 14.-The article by Professor Koch in this week's number of The Deutsche Medicinische Wochenschrift, a German medical weekly, is entitled: "Further Communications on the Cure of Tuberculosis and Experiments Which Dr. Libbertz and Staff Surgeon Pruhl Performed Relating Thereto, Under Professor Koch's Direction."
In this article Professor Koch says he is, as yet, unprepared to indicate the source

In this article Professor Koch says he is, as yet, unprepared to indicate the source from which the curative matter is derived. Neither is he ready to explain the method of preparation. The reason he gives is that the experimental work has not yet been brought to completion. He states, however, that the curative lymph itself can now be obtained from Dr. Libbertz, whose address is No. 28 Lueneburgerstrasse, Berlin. The lymph is described as consisting of a brownish transparent liquid. It is so prepared as to be proof against deterioration. When, however, it is diluted with water to the necessary degree for use the matter is liable to decay. It is necessary, therefore, that the attenuations should be perfectly sterilized by heat and preserved in wadding covering or prepared with a solution of pheno 50 per cent strong.

When taken into the stomach the curative matter provests have no effect. It must be applied succutaneously by means of a valvences syringe. The tind of syrange recommended by Professor Koch is one furnished with a small hollow rubber ball. This syringe approved itself to him during his bacteriological experiments. Its merit is that it can be easily and surely finsed with absolute alcohol and kept in a perfectly aseptic condition. In thousands of cases, he says, where it has been used for subcutaneous injections, not a single abcess resulted.

When the curative matter is applied to a

says, where it has been used for subcutaneous injections, not a single abcess resulted.

When the curative matter is applied to a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in proximity to the loins. The experiments show that human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimeters of the fluid applied to a guinea pig procured little, if 'any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a cubic centimeter, however, intensely affected a healthy, full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

THE EFFECTS DESCRIBED.

Professor Koch experimented with the fluid

Professor Koch experimented with the fluid upon his own body and describes the effect. He injected 25-100 of a cubic centimeter of the fluid under the skin of his upper arm. Three or four hours after this injection was made he experienced a contraction of the limbs and a marked feeling of lassitude. At the same time he felt a desire to cough, together with difficulty of breathing. These symp time he felt a desire to cough, together with difficulty of breathing. These symptoms increased rapidly, and in the fifth hour he experienced an unusually violent rigor. The shivering lasted for nearly an hour and was accompanied with nausea and vomiting. The temperature of his body rose to 39.6 Celsius. After a period of twelve hours the symptoms began to abate, the temperature of the body declined, and on the following day resumed its normal degree. The heaviness of the limbs and the feeling of lassitude, however, continued for some days. The heaviness of the limbs and the feeling of lassitude, however, continued for some days, during which time the point on his arm at which the injection was made, continued to be painful and remained red. The experiments so far conducted show that the lowest limit of effective strength of the fluid in a healthy human body is one-hundreth of a cubic centimeter. When is one-hundreth of a cubic continueter. When this amount is applied to a human subject it produces little or no reaction. The same result follows when the fluid of this strength is applied to diseased persons who are suffering from other than tuberculous affections, but in persons affected with tuberculous affections, but in persons affected persons who are suffering from other than tuberculous affected with tuberculous after tin persons affected with tuberculous the same quantity produces a strong, general and local reaction. The general reaction consists of an attack of fever, which usually begins with shlvering, the temperature of the body rises to over thirty-nine, and in some instances even to forty-one Celsius. At the same time pains in the limbs are noticeable. The patient coughs, experiences much irritation and great exhaustion. Some patients also suffer nausea and vomiting. In some cases there is noticed a slight icteric (jaundice-like) coloring, or exanthema resembling measles on the chest or neck. The symptoms just described begin to manifest themselves four or five hours after the injection of the curative substance. They last from twelve to fifteen hours. The patient is not much affected by the attack induced by the fluid, and, after it is over, feels comparatively well—even better, in fact, than before the injection.

THE SECOND REACTION. The second, or local, reaction produced by the injection of the fluid in a patient suffering from tuberculosis can best be observed in persons whose tuberculous affections are visible, as, for instance, in the case of persons suffering from lupus. The changes which ensue in these cases show in a surprising manner the specifically anti-tuberculous effect of the remedy. Within a few hours after an in-jection of the fluid has been made under the skin of the back the lupus sores begin to swell and redden. During the fever the patient experiences as already described, the swelling and reddening of the described, the swelling and reddening of the sores increase until inally the lupus tissues assume in places a dark-brown tint and a necrotic condition. After the subsidence of the fever the swelling of the lupus sores gradually decreased and possibly disappeared altogether within two or three days. Meanwhile, however, the lupus centres have become covered with an incrustation, formed by exuding serum, which dries up as it reaches the air. These incrustations gradually form into scales, which fall off after two or three weeks.

In some instances the effect just described is produced after a single injection of the curative matter, when a red, smooth scar is left. These changes are absolutely limited in extent to such portions of the skin as are clearly recognized as lupus. In tuberculosis of the lymphatic glands, bone afticulations, etc., these local reactions are less striking, but are still clearly perceptible to the eye and touch. In these cases there is swelling of the parts affected and more pain than lupus parats affected and more pain than lupus pa parts affected and more pain than lupus pa-tients suffer, while in the parts adjacent to the diseased centers the surface also becomes red.

The reaction produced in the internal organs, especially the lungs, when the curative substance is injected is not, of course, open to observation apart from the increased expectoration and cough.

WHAT EXPERIMENTS PROVE.

In all the experiments after the first injec tions, if any tuberculous process existed in the body, the appearances already described supervened. Absolutely no exception was noted whenever a dose amounting to one-hundredth part of a cubic centimetre of the substance had been applied. One may assert with confidence, therefore, that the remedy may be considered an indispensable anxiliary to diagnosis and, in doubtful cases, incipient phthisis can positive information of the nature of the disease caunot be obtained by the discovery of bacilil, or elastic fibres in the sputum, or by a physical examination. vened. Absolutely no exception was noted cilli, or elastic fibres in the sputum, or by a physical examination.

Tuberculuous affections of the glands, latent tuberculosis of the bones, doubtful skin tuberculosis, etc., can by whe use of this fluid be easily and certainly diagnosed. Moreover, in cases of lung or joint tuberculosis which has apparently passed off, it will be possible, by the use of the new substance, to ascertain with use of the new substance, to ascertain with certainty whether the morbid process is really and absolutely ended.

Professor Koch expresses the belief that his remedy will certainly prove a cure for incipient phthisis. Whether, however, the cure will be final and definite has not, he says, been clearly proved. Further experiments and continued use of the remedy will be necessary to determine this question.

The curative properties of the new remedy, Professor Koch declares, are of still greater importance for diagnosis. What the fluid kills is not the tubercular bacillus, but the tubercular tissue. This fact indicates the well-defined limits which the efficacy of the remtubercular tissue. This fact indicates the well-defined limits which the efficacy of the remedy will be able to reach. In other words, it can only influence living tuberculous tissue. It has no effect whatever upon dead tissue, such as decayed gaseous matter, necrotic bones and the like. More than this, it produces no effect upon tissues which have already been killed by the application of the remedy. It is quite possible that such dead tissue may still contain living tuberculous bacil'i. These may then be either expelled with the necrotic tissue or it may be that under special circumstances they may again invade adjacent living tissues.

METHOD OF TREATMENT. It follows, therefore, that tuberculous tis-sue that is still living must first be made to decay. When this has been accomplished, every effort must be made to remove the dead every effort must be made to remove the dead matter by surgery. In cases where this method is impossible and secretion can only slowly proceed by the self-help of the organism threatened, the living tissue must at the same time be protected by continual applications of the remedy so as to guard against the relimingration of the parasites.

The fact that the remedy causes decay only of tuberculous tissues, affecting exclusively living tissues, explains why the curative fluid may be applied in rapidly increased doses.

After the patient has been under treatment for a period of three weeks, a dose of the fluid of 500 times the tranch of the original dose can be applied, for at the beginning, when a large quantity of living tuberculous tissue exists, a small quantity of the remedy suffices to produce a strong reaction, but each succeeding living to a users the disappearance of certain ists, a small quantity of the remedy suffices to produce a strong reaction, but each succeeding injection causes the disappearance of a certain quantity of tissue capable of reaction.

It naturally follows, therefore, that increased doese are necessary to obtain the same degree of reaction. As soon as patients treated with increased doese experience as little reaction as non-tuberculous people, it may be assumed that all tuberculous tissue open to reaction is dead. Whether this conclusion is correct, time will show. For the present correct, time will show. For the present, however, Professor Koch is convinced that his conclusion is a sound one. his conclusion is a sound one.

In all cases of lupus so far treated, the amount of fluid injected has been, in the first instance, one hundredth part of a cubic centimetre. Time has been allowed for the reaction to take its full course. After a period of from one to two weeks a second injection of the same amount has been made. This treatment has continued until the reaction grew weaker and finally ceased. In two cases of lupus of the face the sores, after three or four upus of the face the sores, after three or four injections, became seared and presented a smooth surface. Each one of these cases had suffered for many years and had been treated by other methods without beneficial result. The London Stock Market.

London, November 19.—The stock exchange today was a prey to rumors, none of which were founded on facts. It will be astonishing if today's consternation is not followed by a sharp rally. There is nothing in the monetary situation to create uneasiness. The Bank of England return will probably exceed £14,000,000 a week later. Every facility will be given by the Bank of England and other banks to borrowers on stocks and other securities. Country banks have ceased to withdraw money from London, and there is every appearance that the sub-acute panic is over. There was a very sharp rally this afternoon all around. Prices did not fully recover, but the market was reassured and business, which had been practically impossible, was resumed even in most The London Stock Market. cally impossible, was resumed even in mos culative stocks.

Out Their Money. NEW YORK, November 19.—The uncertainty in financial circles has caused an unsettled feeling to possess the minds of those who have deposits in the banks of the city, particularly among the poorer class. Depositors in the Citizens' Savings bank of the city of New York, at Bowery and Canal streets, besieged its doors today from the opening hour till 6 o'clock, when the doors were closed with difficulty, All day long crowds surrounded the bank and clamored for admis-Officials paid the demands of depositors with as much expedition as possible, but it was impossible to pass over the money quickly enough to satisfy the applicants, who were laboring under the impression that the bank had failed.

We do not desire to cond me Mr. Parnell's grievous sin, but irom Ireland, which he has served so long and fathfully, with such dear devotion and such magnificent success, he may at least look for generous forbearance in the hour of his trial. To his praise be it spoken that he has not attempted to shield himself by perjury. He yielded to a temptation to which many great and wise men have succumbed since and before the days of King David. He has atoned by what, to a man of his proud and high spirit, must have been indeed bitter and humiliating. But to the coercionist clamor for his dismissal from the Irish leadership, Ireland's answer is a sharp and decisive "No." bitter and clasmissal from the Irish leadership, Ireland's answer is a sharp and decisive "No." Irishmen have no mission to judge his private life. Leave that to his conscience and to his God, who weighs temptation with offers.

When they reached the spring the crowd assembled around the spring, above which a great arch of welcome had been placed, and from the rugged rocks, where the savage chiefs of old have so often stood and harangued their warriors, the chorus of an old-fashioned Methodist hymn rang out loud and clear, chanted by hundreds of voices. The day was perfect as an Indian summer day could be. It was a scene never to be forgotten by those who participated in the exercises of the day.

The Welcome Address. After prayer by Dr. Partridge, and in response to a request from the ladies, Colonel George W. Adair took his stand on the rock and delivered one of those piquant and spicy addresses of welcome for which he is famous.

He spoke of the work that Georgia people were doing in educating the negroes, and said that if the northern people would simply let us alone we will take care of the negroes as we have done for the last quarter of a century Colonel Adair's speech was in his happiest

Mrs. Mary Bynon Reese spoke for a few minutes. She is state lecturer of west Washington, and is one of the most brilliant ladies of the convention. Her speech was well received by the audience.

Songs were sung by Mrs. Nicholls, the sweet singer of the convention, and by Professor F. G. Odell, the musician of the day. Mrs. M. L. Wells, of Chattanooga, the leader in the great Asheville assembly movement, delivered a beautiful speech.

A Prohibition Speech.

Mr. Jack Smith, the champion prohibitionist of Butts county, made a stirring speech.

He said that he was an out and out national prohibitionist. He had found out several years ago that the democrats and the republicans alike were deeply dyed in the liquor traffic, and he had severed his connec tion with the democrats and was now a straight out and out prohibitionist and expected to remain so the balance of his life.

Mr. Smith's speech was loudly applauded by the assemblage. It was a masterly effort, and at the conclusion a lady tied a white ribbon on his arm amid the plaudits of the throng.

Mr. John Lloyd Thomas, the representative of the national prohibition party, delived a strong prohibition speech, dealing with facts connected with the work of the party during the last few years of its existence. Mr. Thomas was loudly applauded for his words of

Mr. H. P. Fitch, the publisher, of Lincoln. Neb., followed in a very interesting and appropriate speech.

Miss Jennie Smith, the great railroad worker, followed, and her speech was full of the great work she has in hand among the railroadmen of the country.

This closed the interesting programme. During the entire time the dozen dippers pro-vided at the spring were in constant demand. and at times the people were compelled to wait for the water to run.

In all its history so many people neve drank of the health-giving waters of this famous "Medicine Spring," as it was known among the red men in the olden days.

A Royal Feast.

At 1 o'clock the people were invited to a regular old-fashioned country open air feast. A large number of carcases were smoking in the barbecue pits, and 400 yards of tables had been constructed in a hollow square around

The old mill, with its busy wheel, and the big hotel, which is going up near the spring, came in for their share of interest.

The entire affair was most admirably man-aged. Mr. C. D. Barker, to whom the credi of getting up the excursion is due, was largely responsible for the smoothness with which everything was managed.

A GOOD-NATURED CROWD. Never was there a better natured crowd, and although many ladies were forced to stand up all the way, and were pushed and jostled about the aisles, everybody kept in a good humor, and song after song was sung by the ladies in the different cars.

The night was as perfect as the day, and thanks to the railroad men there was not a single delay between Flovilla and the city. . Not an incident occurred to mar the perfect enjoyment of the day.

During the trip down, at McDonough, a lady appeared on her front porch, some hundreds of yards away, and with white a hand-kerchief in either hand she waved a salute to the excursionists.

Instantly a thousand handkerchiefs were fluttering a response, and this silent exchange of fraternal greeting continued for fifteen or twenty minutes, until the train passed on and the hospitable lady was lost to view.

A collection was quickly taken up to pur chase a picture of Miss Willard to pres the lady. On inquiring it proved to be Mrs. Nolan, a very prominent lady of that town. The virtues of its healing waters were known long before the white men discovered known long selore the white men discovered this wonderful natural fountain. It was known as the great "Medicine" springs, and the tribes used to go there and remain for many days each summer.

It was there that the celebrated treaty was made by Governor Troup and the chiefs of the tribes who inhabited that section.

The spring, and ien acres of ground surrounding it, were reserved by the state, which has remained in its possession since 1836. The Indians were given two years to get ready to emigrate to the west, and in 1838 they were taken in bands of 1,000 each and taken to the reservation in what is were and taken to the reservation in what is now

This treaty caused the death of General Mc-Intosh, the friend of the whites, who was murdered by the other faction, and afterwards of his son in Indian territory.

The rock on which the chiefs stood in the great conference, while addressing their followers and the white commissioners, is still shown on the hill above the spring.

The spring itself is a very small affair, only running about a gallon a minute, in a small stream that issues from the solid rock. Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Lathrop at the Capitol-Prohibition Is American. Two very able and interesting temperand ectures were delivered last evening at the Mary O. Lathrop, of Michigan. The hall of representatives was crowded, both floor and galleries, and many were turned away because standing room could not be had. Mrs. Hoffman was introduced by Mr. A. A.

"In Holland," said Mrs. Hoffman, "very large tracts of land have been reclaimed from the sea by the dykes. The children of that country are taught from infancy to watch these barriers, and to appreciate the awful danger of the tiniest leak. There is a prohibition moral in all that. Our land must be pro claimed from the ocean of strong drink little by little. That advantages gained may not be lost, and our success be only temporary, we must teach our children of Holland do those dykes; the youngest of them knowing the terrible danger that threatens if the barrier is broken. "But start a temperance movement! Then there is the practical man to object, 'I would be with you,' he says, 'if prohibition prohibited'—forgetting that every law on the statute book is broken, even where death is the penalty, and that no law prohibits absolutely. There is the moderate man; men of position and influence, who set the example of moderation and see no harm in the use—only in the abuse—of strong drink. An alarm was turned in from box 331 at 9:45 o'clock last night, caused by a fire at Jack's cracker factory, on Railroad street. The department responded promptly and had the flames under control in short order. The fire originated in a dry box or keg into which a lighted match had been carelessly thrown. The damage was about $25.

The purposes of the bill are embodied in the following section:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation in this state to sell spirituous, vincus or malt liquors in any county, city, town or vinage thereof, without first obtaning a license from the authorities now authorized by law to grant license for the sale of such liquors by retail, and the laws now in force in this state, with reference to the granting of license to retail dealers in spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in the several counties, cities and municipalities, and the penalties attached for the violation of the same, are hereby made applicable to dealers who sell in any quantity whatever.

ROIFEUILLET'S SCHOOL BILL.

Yesterday Representative Boifeuillet, of Bibb, introduced a very important educational bill, in behalf of the Georgia Teachers' Association, through the chaiman of its special committee, Mr. Jodie Roberts, the able and very popular school commissioner of Burke county, who is also well known as one of the most successful teachers in the state of Georgia. This bill is of great interest to every teacher in Georgia, and they earnestly hope for its passage by the legislature.

Mr. Boifeuillet says "the bill seeks to remove the obstacle to the advancement of commove the obstacle sayd give substantial relief to the mon schools and give substantial relief to the teachers. The bill provides for prompt and just payment of teachers and all school contracts. Up to this late date not one dollar has been paid to a public school teacher of Georgia for this year's work, which is a just cause for righteous indignation.

The wrong of the present plan of payment is the more apparent when it is known that a large share of the state school fund proper is in the state treasury from six to twelve months before it is disbursed to its rightful owners. That this may appear these figures are given laws, but that in reference to the payment of teachers is the leading reform." Yesterday Professor Roberts, of Burke, and Professor Zettler, of Bibb, appeared before the education committee as representatives of the Georgia Teachers' Association and ably and interestingly presented the grievances of the teachers as outlined in part in the above-men-

THE MARIETTA AFFAIR

GROGGINS CAN, IT IS CLAIMED, PROVE AN ALIBI.

Complaints of a Lawless Gang in Cobb County—The Troubles the United States Have With Them.

MARIETTA, Ga., November 19.-[Special.]-The murder of Wright on Tuesday evening, the 11th instant, still continues to be a subject of paramount interest. Caleb Goggins was arrested, at the instigation, it is claimed, of the gang which has been operating extensively in the blind tiger business there, and charged

Although many of the respectable citizens think that Goggins is the guilty man, yet those believed to be in position to know, assert that at his trial next week he will have no difficulty in proving an alibi, as at the time of the murder he was at home with his family, at east a mile and a half from the spot.

Both Goggins and Wright had been witnesses against the gang, and by causing his arrest they have served two ends. One, to shield the real perpetrator of the deed, and the other to get out of the way, temporarily at least, a man who is thoroughly posted on all their foul methods.

This fact is borne out by the incautious statement of one of the gang, who said: "We have got Wright out of the way for good, and put Goggins where he can't do any harm."

It was murder most foul, and if the right man is found he will without doubt be given the full extent of the law.

This entire region has been and is being terrorized by a set of lawless scoundrels, both white and colored, and without a doubt this murder can, if our citizens will but bestir themselves, be traced directly to these men. Wright's life has been threatened several times by members of this gang, against whom he had at divers times been a witness in the federal court at Atlanta.

On the afternoon of his death, and only a few hours before the killing the poor fellow entered the office of Captain H. C. Hamilton, clerk of the United States district court at Atlanta, and after receiving his witness fees, remarked:

"I am afraid they are going to do me at Marietta, Mr. Hamilton. But if I can only get one more load of goods out of the place, I will come here to live and will be safe.' How prophetic were the words!

This is supposed to be a country of freedom, and if an entire community is to be terrorized by a handful of desperate cutthroats, it is time that the law stepped in and ferreted out and convicted every member of the gang.

AT THE THEATRE.

DeGive's was overflowing last evening with the elite—the creme de la creme—to acknowledge a unanimous admiration for "Peg Woffington," and for its present creator, Rose Coghlau. The great playwright, Charles Reade, Iwould have considered it a magnificent tribute to his genius as a dramatist to have witnessed Rose Coghlan as she invested the role of "Peg" with charming reality at last evening's performance. This versatile artiste possesses the entire key-board of emotion within her ample range of ex-pression. To her the notes of pathos and humor combine in one harmonious chord. She has all the faculties which go to make up the complet the faculties which go to make up the complete comedienne. Her voice is a freasure of rich resource, obedient to a profound ruling of the laws of diction. She is magnetic and intensely individual. Her graceful versatility moulds hamor with judicious aptness for every incident. She is innovating, creative and electrifying. In her grasp, "Peg" is the artless child of candor, mature with worldly experience, concrows by a principle and by impulse. rescand of candor, mature with worldly experience, generous by principle and by impulse cunning and insinuating when occasion requires it, but pre-eminently natural and candid. The role is the par excellence of high conedy, diverting to the utmost, and entercoincidy, diverting to the utmost, and enter-taining in every detail. Rose Coghlan introduces into her impersonations a rare vigor and intensity. In following her "Peg" through the various scenes, the audience becomes intimate with a real phase of life, teaming with a distinctive verity of intrigue.

The audience did not remain passive to this The audience did not remain passive to this piece of consummate acting. The impulse was to encore every passage and to acquaint the actress that her efforts met with unanimous approval.

John T. Sullivan appeared at an advantage as Sir Charles Pomander. Mr. Sullivan is highly conscientious in extracting the true character from the garb of the scheming noble. His stage presence is commanding and exceedingly well adapted to the scene. In the matter of diction, Mr. Sullivan deserves special mention and praise. to the scene. In the matter of diction, Mr. Sullvan deserves special mention and praise.

The role of Triplet, the poverty-stricken author and painter, was in the hands of Mr. Thomas Whiffin, where it found a brilliant interpretation.
This part is one of the most sympathetic of the comedy, and Mr. Whiffin was well aware of the exactions upon his talent, presenting a very thorough impersonation.

The whole cast was beyond reproach.
The Messrs. Reed, Martin, Edwin, Kidder, Eytinge, McGregor, Hayes and Conlon gave choice conceptions of their respective roles in every particular.

Miss Beatrice Moreland played the part of Mabel Vane with fine discrimination.
The Misses Baker, Weathersby and Young completed the support with efficient art.

At today's matinee, "Peg Woffington" will be repeated.

Tonight Miss Coghlan will be seen in Bouci-cault's greatest of wonders, "London Assurance." The mere announcement of the play ought to in-sure a crowded house, but with Coghlan as the star, what a treat it will be! Of course everybody will go and everybody will be repaid for going.

"Spider and Fly."

Standing-room only and very little of that, was the state of affairs last night. "The Spider and Fly," a pantomimic burlesque so constructed as to admit of a number of vaudeville features, was the attraction, and it was well liked and loudly applicated. Alexander Zantretta Miss Blanche.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 20, 1890.

An Interesting Occasion. Yesterday the mayor of Milledgeville, at the head of a committee of fifteen distinguished citizens of that flourishing city, visited Atlanta. The object of their coming was to thank the legislature for accepting an invitation to be present on the 27th instant, at the laving of the corner stone of the Girls' Industrial School at Milledgeville, and to urge a full attendance of the mem-As the 27th will be Thanksgivings Day, the legislature will lose no time, and it is eminently proper that they should take part in the interesting ceremonies of such an occasion. The Girls' ndustrial School is an institution that all Georgians are proud of. It will do for our girls what the technological school has done for our boys, and will greatly advance the cause of prac-

The lively interest felt in the school by the public-spirited citizens of Milledgeville, and the substantial encouragement it has received from them will not be forgotten. The spirit of progress has stirred with its quickening touch Georgia's old capital, and the city undoubtedly has a bright future

The Lottery Law Again.

A Washington dispatch printed in our news columns yesterday presents another instance of the injury that can be done by irresponsible postoffice officials in their interpretation of the lottery law.

The Augusta Chronicle, in printing an account of the races, also reported the poolselling, and told where pools could be bought the next day. The able postmaster of Augusta, perceiving where he could bring down his hatchet, proceeded to confiscate the mail editions of The Chronicle. Under his interpretation of the law The Chronicle was amenable. An appeal was made to the postmaster general, who promptly telegraphed to the postmaster that the publication of the result of horse races or poolselling does not render the paper containing it unmailable under the provisions of the lottery act.

The postmaster general was prompt in his decision, but promptness on his part cannot undo the wrong which has been inflicted on The Augusta Chronicle and its subscribers. The paper was held in the postoffice and delayed at least twelve hours, and this is in the nature of a serious injury to the publishers, for which they have no remedy.

Now, who is to blame for this sort of Not the postmaster, for however vicious he may be in his partisanship, the law is more vicious still. It is a law that covers a good deal of ground, and it can be used-in fact, it has already been used-to inflict irreparable injury on a number of publications. The only limit to its operation is the indifference of postmasters and the questionable discretion of the postmaster with our institutions. It is viciously un-American in the methods by which it proposes to suppress the lottery business. It gives to the government officials unreasonable and dangerous powers, and sets them to spy on the mails. It is not a republican law. It was championed by democrats who never stop to consider principles when an evil is to be abated, and who are blind to results. It was advocated by editors who never paused to consider its effects.

Placed by the side of the decision of the supreme court on the original package question, which was endorsed by two democratic jndges, it marks a long step forward in the direction of centralization.

Make a Note of It.

Speaking of Senator Ingalls, The New York Independent says:

A man who could say in cold blood, and never be ashamed of it, and never palliate or explain it away, that politics has nothing to do with the ten commandments, and who could declare that moral religious considerations must be as much expunged from political contest as from war, is a for whom a moral community has no use.

Agnostics and infidels do not cut much of a figure in American politics. Ingersoll would have held high positions if his open warfare against Christianity had not arrayed the good people of the country solidly against him. Ingalls has enjoyed better luck because he hedged, and trimmed and posed as a man who was tormented by honest doubts. Still, he is on the down grade, and the Independent's judgment will be very generally

The ambitious young men of our day should take warning. They should understand at the outset of their careers that Christianity is, as Webster said, the law of the land. The people have no use for a man who trifles with religion. They may admire his genius, and be stirred by his eloquence, but they will not trust him nor hold him in honor.

The Ingersolls and Ingallses make only "a hell-fire flash" in their rush through life. They go out in utter darkness. The world willingly forgets them, and turns gladly to the apostles of sweetness and light.

This Should Settle It.

Mr. Porter, superintendent of the census has valiantly defended his enumerators from all charges of incompetency and dishonesty. He has declared that they were "picked men, far removed from double-dealing and trickery."

The attention of Inspector Byrnes, of New York, was called to this statement, and his reply was as follows: "Porter's claim that his enumerators were selected from the best material available is ridiculous; it is rubbish. I know that some of his enumerators in this city were thieves! I know that they were ex-convicts.' It was further shown that some of the enumerators in New York occupied inent places in the rogue's gallery! This should settle the question as to whether New York obtained a fair count or not. It is not probable that Mr. Porter was fully aware of the character of his enumerators in New York, or he might have done better. But was New York the exception? The carelessness which characterized the census-taking there may become apparent in other cities throughout the country.

In the meantime, the New York newspapers have succeeded in getting Mr. Porter into a corner and have turned the tables on

The Free Coinage of Silver.

There is abundant evidence going to show that the discussion of the silver question is about to be renewed with increased vigor.

It is inevitable that this should be so, for it must appear to the most indifferent observer that the new silver law passed by the republicans is one of those indefinite compromises that compel practical action. The new silver law is a failure, except in one important direction. It goes far enough to upset all the republican and gold-bug theories of silver inflation, and yet it fails utterly to meet the expectations of the

In this way, the new law has accomplished great good, just as the compulsory coinage act did, and it will not be very long before the mints will be open to the free coinage of silver. Ever since the adoption of the Bland act which compelled the coinage of $2,000,-000 of silver a month, the arguments and predictions of the monometallists have been losing their force. Events have shown that the monometallist writers and editors know no more about the results of silver legislation than the most ignorant person in the land. And yet, it is plain that even the monometallists are preparing to surrender gracefully to the force of common sense backed by the power of the people.

The Boston Herald, which is stoutly in favor of the single gold standard, is disposed to treat the silver question in a much more reasonable way than it has seen fit to do heretofore. In predicting the probable adoption of a free coinage law, which indeed seems to be inevitable, The Herald, while deploring this "departure from a sound financial policy," remarks that "the immediate detrimental effect of such an act can easily be exaggerated." Our esteemed contemporary is at some pains to dispose of the stock of arguments against free coinage which have been the mainstay of the monometallists. For instance, we find the following in an editorial in which the silver question is discussed at some length: If the United States government, with the co sent of its people, is willing to guarantee by its free coinage of silver that sixteen ounces of this metal shall be equivalent in value to one ounce of gold, such a guarantee by the wealthiest country in the world will for some time to come be equivaent to the endorsement of a note by a person of large means and recognized solvency. Such an act would have the effect of putting up the price of silver throughout the world to the basis estab-lished by the United States. If a government endorsement can give a gold value to hundreds of millions of dollars of paper money, it could cer-tainly give the same value to a very large quantity of sil er coin which had in itself a considerable degree of intrinsic worth.

While there are probably in the German imperial treasury, and perhaps elsewhere, certain quanti-ties of silver that might, under such conditions, be shipped to the United States to be sold and coined, the value of the silver coin at home, which would, under such circumstances, be fully up the American value, minus the cost of transports tion, would probably prevent these shipments from being made in any wholesale fashion. M Edward Atkinson, in his report to the secretary of state in 1887 on bi-metallism in Europe, pointed out that the use of silver as exchangeable money was very much more than that of gold-that i was very much more than that of gold-than ex-silver is the money of the people in ordinary ex-change, and is, perhaps, on that account less liable than gold to be collected and sent out of the coun-

The main arguments of the gold-bugs have been that the free coinage of silver in Europe, and that the demonetized silver from those countries would be dumped into the United States. The Herald admits that free coinage here would put up the price of silver all over the world to the basis established by the United States, and this gives away the whole case of the monometallists, for if the price goes up in Europe, the people then will discover that they have need for all the silver they have and all they can

The danger that The Herald fears comes from another quarter. It suggests that the increased value of silver will so greatly increase its production as to make the main tenance of free coinage a burden to the people of this country. Our belief is that The Herald's fear is a delusion, and our belief is quite as important as that of our contemporary. According to its own showing, free coinage here would raise the price silver all over the world to the basis estab lished by the United States. This would not only prevent the celebrated "dump" which the monometallists have been depending on, but would immensely increase the demand for silver in the arts, to say nothing of its increased use as money. The day of "fogy" arguments in the silver discussion is over.

A Sham Problem.

Ex-President Hayes suddenly bobs up in the most unexpected manner from his poul try yard, and asks: "What can we do with

The question comes rather late in the day Mr. Hayes and his party have been trying for a quarter of a century to make a prob lem out of the negro. They deluded him with the promise of forty acres and a mule, bamboozled him with a freedman's bureau and robbed him with a freedman's hank They rode into office on his shoulders and then left him out in the cold. Now, with characteristic impudence, they want to know what they can do for him.

Why not let him alone? The negro has a fair a chance to make a living in this country as his best friends could desire. He is the equal of the white man politically and legally. Socially, he must, of course, make his way with his own people, and not with the people of another race.

If the negro aims at comfort, happ and liberty, he has only to imitate the ex ample of his white friends. He will sink or swip. The game is in his own hands. If he is moral, industrious and thrifty, he will get along very well. If he is idle, wasteful and vicious, he will go to the wall. The survival of the fittest is the rule.

Mr. Hayes is trying to manufacture a sham problem. The thing to do is to let "nature cut her caper." The negro is all right when he is let alone. It will take in-terference, coddling and misguided senti-entalism to turn him into a problem. Let Mr. Hayes turn his attention to a burning issue in his line, something like the effect of the McKinley tariff on the price of eggs, for ce-or anything, in fact, connected with the poultry business that may suggest itself to his inquiring mind. Anything would be better than this mistaken driveling over the alleged negro question.

There is Time Enough.

The Manufacturers' Record informs us that the world's fair at Chicago, in 1893, is now a certainty, and wants to know what the south is going to do about it. California has appropriated a half million dollars for the show, and the states of the great west are falling into line and preparing their exhibits. The Record thinks that this is the south's opportunity to display our resources, and it will not do to let it pass. But we infer from the Chicago newspapers that there is no need for any special hurry. The fair in '93 is not a certainty, after all. At least it looks that way.

Only recently we were informed that a site had been selected and all the machinery was moving smoothly. Now, we are told by The Chicago Herald that "world's fair matters are found to be in a condition that can not fail to cause Chicagoans much concern.' The site question has been reopened. The federal commissioners talk violently of compelling the absolute surrender of Washington park and the site for the fair is split al to pieces.

One party wants the main exhibits down town; another would have them up town; and it really seems that the only way to settle the fair question to the satisfaction of everybody is to let the buildings cover the whole city, so that all will be benefited

It will be time enough for the legislatures of the states to make appropriations for exhibits at the fair when the fair is a fact. At present it is far from such, and the outlook promises another year of wrangling in which no important work will be accomplished. It is a moving spectacle, truly!

Ruined in His Old Age. And now the news comes that Louis Kossuth has lost his entire fortune, and his friends have found it necessary to start a popular subscription for his benefit.

In his old age Kossuth has fallen a victim to the prevailing craze for speculation. He invested all his money in railway stocks, and suddenly found himself a pauper. It is a humiliating ending of a brilliant though unsuccessful career. The great

Hungarian was one of the purest and bravest popular leaders of his time. No living man has done more for the cause of liberty. No man has done more to spread republican entiments throughout Europe. During his long life Kossuth has always subordinated his personal interests to those of his countrymen. He has risked his chances in battle, suffered in prison and endured exile without a murmur. With fearless devotion he gave up the alluring prospects of his bright youth and flamed like a meteor from country to country, and from continent to continent, holding millions spellbound by his marvelous eloquence. In the old world and in the new he spoke for liberty and for man, and his burning words left an illumination behind them.

But this warrior, orator and statesman is. after all, just human. He withstood tyrant after tyrant, only to yield to the money devil. Speculation breaks more men than it makes. Such men as Kossuth-soldiers, orators and poets-men who live in a strange, ideal world of their own, always have had luck when they court the fickle goddess Fortune. Perhaps it is because they are fitted for better things than money-making. Perhaps it is because they lack the common sense of ordinary mortals. Speculation has pulled down many a hero, and plunged him into the mire of poverty. Kossuth has met the common fate, but his legions of friends will give him aid and comfort for the remainder of his days.

THE OMAHA BEE says the republican party sore from the kicking it received the other

A NEW YORKER named Smith has com mitted seventy forgeries. This is the man the republicans have long needed. He is ahead of Quay and Dudley.

THE ARLE scientist of The Cincinnati Enquirer refuses to believe in Dr. Koch's discovery. It is to be hoped that some Ohio doctor will invent a cure for paresis.

THE REPUBLICANS are defeated, but they re not unhappy. They enjoyed the fun of robbing the people of the surplus.

THE REPUBLICANS are all expecting to ride o victory in 1892 in Brother Blaine's free-trade

Some or the painfully virtuous republican editors are very anxious that Quay should send in his resignation. They tseem to be very much shocked because he has not inswered the charges against him.

BILL CHANDLER should send for Quay WE OBSERVE the name of Raphael mixed up with the Baring troubles. Is he related to the man who used to climb up to the ceiting and paint things red? THE IRISH people propose to stand by Parnell, and this certainly seems to be the correct thing to do, for Mr. Parnell has been standing by the Irish people for a long time.

It is said that Mr. McKinley can have the cussian mission. It would suit him admirably. There can be no colder days in Russia than those that McKinley has just passed

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A. P. CUNNINGHAM, a clerk in Washington, inherited a fortune the other day. He at once got on a spree and went to the white house where he JOANTHAN H. GREEN, once well known as "the reformed gambler," recently died at Hamilton, O. He was the author of several books exposing the tricks of gamblers. THE PRINCE OF WALES is growing more popular than ever. The people are beginning to realize that he is the hardest-worked public man in Eng-land, and the least understood.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

There were many swollen heads in Atlanta yesterday morning, but with few exceptions they were lifted out of bed. The senatorial race in Georgia settled, attention is now directed to Alabama and South Carolina. In Alabama the balloting is still in progress and all the candidates seem to be holding their own. An impression, however, prevailed among Alabamians, and knowing ones around Atlanta last night, that Congressman Oates would probably be brought in compromise candidate and be elected. He would prove satisfactory to all parties except perhaps the alliance supporters of Mr. Kolb But even alliancemen must admire the man for his courage. While other congressmen were holding back in terror fearing to write their views on the subtreasury, Colonel Oates came out bravely and blazed the way for all the letters that followed. He is a man of great ability and has for years been one of the leaders on the democratic side of the house. It was he who fought, with a following of only twenty, for two weeks, keeping the house in session day and night, against the direct tax bill. It was he who defeated it the first session of the fiftieth congress, and when it did pass, a year later, it was he who per snaded, by his strong argument, Mr. Cleveland to veto the unjust measure. He is one of the few men in congress with the courage of his Alabama with Morgan and Oates in the sen ate would be second to none.

And in the South Carolina situation there is much interest. Colonel Mike Brown, of Barnwell, one of the leading Hampton men in the state, was at

"It looks now," said he, "like the pro-gramme is for Ben Tillman to run for the senate against General Hampton and let Ernest Gary, the lieutenant governor, go in as governor. Colonel Robert Aldrich and Mr. W. C. Benet are also spoken of as probable Colonel Robert Aldrich and Mr. candidates for Hampton's shoes. General Gordon's election here will undoubtedly have elect Hampton. But the alliance in our state is better organized than it is here. They follow where Tillman leads. They control the legislature by a large majority, and I fear the result. It would be an outrage and a disgrace upon the state to defeat General Hampton.' A rumor was current about the Kimball lobby last night that a petition was being gotten up by certain alliance members of the legislature, who worked and voted for General Gordon, requesting all the officers of the state alliance to resign. The rumor was further to the effect that this petition was to be signed by all Gordon alliancemen of the state. However, I could find no one who would verify it. All alliancemen who could be seen denied it with emphasis and put it down as imaginative dreams of some swollenheaded enemy of the order.

Congressman Charles F. Crisp, of Americus, came up yesteryday. At the capitol he was overwhelmed with congratiations from mem bers and others on the splendid stand he took in the last congress and on his elevation to the leadership of the democratic side of the national house of representatives. Every one also expressed the hope that he would be the next speaker.

And the chances are that he will be. Certainly so if the speaker is chosen for ability and fitness for the position. He is in every way fitted to make just such a speaker as the next house will need.

Judge Crisp will probably remain in Atlanta until Friday. He leaves for Washington next week, as congress convenes on the 1st of

Mr. A. J. Wedderburn, the compound lard nember of the National Grange, has succeeded in getting the grange convention, in ses here now, to endorse the compound lard bill.

It was done with only two dissenting voices.

Mr. Wedderburn says he made a tour of Atlanta's grocers yesterday and could find none selling Fairbanks's compound lard. He considered that an evidence that the people lo not want it, however, without taking into consideration the fact that almost every pound of lard now sold in the country is a compound of hog or beef fat and cotten seed oil—the purest the cheapest and considered the best product. To show the importance of the company, I may cite a fact, way of illustration, and that is the way railroads treat us. ECHOES FROM THE PEOPLE.

OXFORD, N. C., November 19.—Editor Constitu-tion: In a recent issue of your paper Bill Arp makes the statement that while a large majority of the farms of Kansas are under mortgages, in his county—Bartow, Georgia—there are but few farms that are not clear of debt. He further states that it is supposed to be the unequal laws of this country that make this great difference in Georgia and Kansas. But if so, "what laws?" he asks. Now, it seems to me that Bill Arp, though generally a very knowing man, has not made him-self acquainted with the difference in life in Georgia and Kansas. If he had he would not ave asked the above question.

The people of Kansas are almost wholly dependent upon one or two crops—corn and meat—for all they enjoy, the prices of which are controlled, not by the laws of supply and demand, but for all they enjoy, the prices of which are controlled, not by the laws of supply and demand, but by railroad combinations and unscrupulous speculators. While, at the same time, the laws of protection so operate as to make the western farmers may a large per cent of their hard earnings into the co-ers of the rich manufacturers of the east. In Kansas they burn corn for fuel because it is cheaper than to pay the enormous charges on coal, the railroads being run, not in the interests of the people of Kansas, but in the interests of protection and monopoly. In Bartow county, Ga, they cultivate a great variety of crops, the prices of which are not manipulated by speculators, and besides enjoy the benefit of many protected industries. Kansas has no protection, neither have many parts of Georgia, where the people are but little better off than in Kansas. If Kansas had protection she, too, like Bartow county, could boast of her freedom from debt. If Kansas had protection she, too, like the east, could let her once highly cultivated fields grow up into a wilderness and depend upon her protected manufactories for all her wants.

titution: Your special correspondent from this place, in writing you concerning the killing of James Young on the streets of our quiet and lawabiding little city on last Saturday evening, is certainly mistaken when he intimates that the sympathy of the entire community without reserve, is extended to Mr. Jones

The good people of Cartersville hold in high esteem some, if not all, of Mr. Charlie Jones rela teem some, if not all, of Mr. Charlie Jones relatives, and for this reason regret very much the homicide, but to say that their sympathy is so universally and reservedly extended to him is, in my judgment, doing them, under the circumstances of the killing, great injustice. Mr. Jones had been for the last past six months threatening the life of the deceased, and during last week renewed his threats and at the time of the killing walked up to the deceased and in a quiet way touched him on the shoulder saying, "Let me see you a minute," walked to the edge of the sidewalk and told the deceased that he was then ready to settle their matters, and when the deceased stepped back and said that he was not, Mr. Jones immediately drew his pistol and shet him down, and as he fell shot him again in the side, and while on the ground in the agonies of death, and from three-quarters to a minute after the last shot, Jones, while the deceased was lying on his stomach, shot him in the back. These facts, in the opinion of the coroner's jury, who were all white men and Mr. Jones personal friends, made out an atroclous murder, and they so found without the slightest interference on the part of the friends or family of the deceased. The jail was guarded Savurday night, from extreme precaution on the part of the sheriff, but not on account of the slightest demonstrations on the part of the colored people, the colored people, have an abiding faith in the due, propeper and certain administration of the law, and with finis faith entrust this case to the officers of the law and the juries of the country. PARIS, November 19.—General Seliverskoff, Russian agent in France, died today from the effects of bullet wounds in his head, inflicted in a manner which at present is a mystery. Conflicting reports are current as to how he was shot. One report says a stranger called upon him yesterday at his residence at the Hotel Bade and that half an hour after the visitor departed General Seliverskoff was found by his valet lying unconscious in his room, shot in the head. Other reports state that the general received no visitors. No weapon was found and the furniture in the room was not disarranged. The police attach some suspicion to the valet and he is carefully watched.

The judicial authorities are conducting the inquiry, at the Hotel Bade, into General Seliverskoff's death, and have examined a number of servants. The police have become convinced that the valet had nothing to do with the shooting of his master. They have therefore, withdrawn the watch on him. I would willingly comply with your request but for the fact that it does not seem to be a matter for the jurisdiction of the mayor, and any such intervention by me would in my opinion be an unwarranted interference in the coming primary and municipal elections. A legal question, I understand, is seldom decided in advance or in anticipation, but usually only when it has in fact arisin. This question may or may not arise, and until it does, an official opinion through this office from the city attorney would, I think, be

I do not mean by this opinion to intimate any personal choice between any candidate, nor by any means to intimate that any one of our councilmen or aldermen would seek to avoid the intention of the act in his own case. I simply so construe the statute. Yours truly,

Not Out of the Race.

Mr. Josh Tye is by no means out of the race for council from the first ward, as has been inferred from a misconstruction of a statement published vesterday. published yesterday.

"I am not only in the race," said Mr. Tye to a Constitution reporter, "but I am in to win. I have never thought of retiring, nor have my friends ever suggested my doing so. They are hard at work, and if I am not elected I will be badly mistaken. That's all."

Judge Tompkins's Politics.

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: It appears that candidacy for any office must bring forth some kind of a misstatement. A friend has called my attention to a report that some one has said that they had somewhere heard I was a republican in politics. I suppose such report finds its basis in the fact that I was on the first bond of Postmaster Lewis, of this city. I took my name off this bond at once when General Lewis made the appointment of a negro man, that occasioned so much feeling in the community, just after his going into office. The letter I then wrote, and which was given a wide publication, quite explicitly fixed what have always been my political beliefs and affiliations.

I have never voted anything but a democratic ticket. The last vote I cast was on the fourth of this month for Colonel L. F. Livingston for congress.

[Communicated.]

As to Mr. Kontz's Eligibility. Judge Tompkins's Politics.

As to Mr. Kontz's Eligibility,

Is Mr. Anton Kontz eligible as mayor?

This question has been extensively discussed This question has been extensively discussed throughout the city for some days. It is reported, on what appears to be good authority, that Mr. Kontz has consulted both Judge John L. Hopkins and Colonel N. J. Hammond on this point, and that both these eminent lawyers have decided that the Rice law renders Mr. Kontz inbligible to the office of mayor. Now is this true? Does not Mr. Kontz owe it to himself and the citizen of Atlanta to make known the crim the citizens of Atlanta to make known the opin-ions of Judge Hopkins and Colonel Hammond if it be true that they have given opinions on this question? Can Mr. Kontz afford to allow himself to be elected mayor of Atlanta if there is a well-grounded suspicion of his entire eligibility? Let Mr. Kontz disclose his information on this matter in the Evening Journal of this day; or if he fails to do so should not the voters of Atlanta determine not to east their ballots for a candidate who, if elected, may cause incalculable trouble and perhaps great loss to our city? As a friend of Mr. Kontz, who knows him and esteems him very highly, the writer calls on him to publish his legal opinion and let the people know if they ac-cord with those of Colonel Cox, Mr. Ellis and ord with those of Colonel Cox, Mr. Ellis and other lawyers of prominence.

These opinions of Judge Hopkins and Colonel Hammond cannot be obtained or made public except by Mr. Kontz himself, as lawyers cannog disclose the suits of their clients. But if such within the suits of their clients. opinions have been given and are not now made opinions have been given and are not now made public by Mr. Kontz, no thinking man can doubt but that they are adverse to the claims of Mr. Kontz as a qualified candidate for mayor. Is the office of mayor of such vast consequence to Mr. Kontz that he can afford to take it with a cloud upon its title? It may be that he thinks he can; but surely the business interests of Atlanta—and every man, rich or poor, has a stake in these interests—cannot afford to run any such risk. Let Mr. Kontz speak out.

ATLANTA.

Why Does Not the Mayor Obtain the In-

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: As taxpayers we cannot see why the mayor does not obtain the legal information from the city attorneys as to the eligibility of Mr. Kontz. We pay the city attorneys $5,000 a year for their services, and it is their business and that of the mayor to solve this question as to Mr. Kontz's eligibility, and as taxpayers we demand that this be done, and not throw the city into endless litigation. Let the mayor at once procure their opinion and give it to the public.

MANY TAXPAYERS.

What Mr. Grady Wrote of Mr. Brown. EDITOR CONSTITUTION: The candidacy of Mr. Walter R, Brown for the mayoralty of Atlanta recalls the eulogistic editorial written of him by Mr. Grady after the election of last year. In that editorial Mr. Grady said:

The race made by Mr. Walter R. Brown has been a callent one and walter R. been a gallant one, and under all the circum-stances surprising. With almost all the lead-ers opposed to him, and with his campaign so serves promotion.

pitched as to antagonize wide interests and factions, he has rallied and held a strength that stands greatly to his credit and makes, him an important factor in Atlanta's future. He will be wise and patriotic if he will use this strength for the upbuilding of the city, the promotion of union among her people and this promotion of union among her people, and this we believe he will do.

Atlanta needs every man who by his own influence can poll 2,000 votes in so one-sided a campaign, certainly he owes deep allegiance to the city in which his constituents live.

Vote for D. S. Paul for councilman from the fifth ward. He is thorough waterworks man and will make a valuable man in council on our new water-works, as he is a member of the preferred purchasers of the Manufacturers' Association of America, and will know when the tax payers are getting the right prices on waterworks supplies. Don't fail to have his name on your ticket. He is a conservative man and is for Atlanta. He is endorsed by the best people of Atlanta and his ward.

HUNDREDS OF VOTERS.

Conservative Bosh. To the Editor of The Journal: The so-called conservative ticket, published in this morning's CONSTITUTION, as having been nominated by a so called conservative meeting, is enough to make the people of this city laugh. It was put out by a small crowd of men who met over Bob Lowry's bank. And the leaders in the movement were the same men who were pushing Pat Calhoun for United States senator against General John B. Gordon. A VOTER.

tion appeared in The Journal of yesterday. The "co-called conservative meeting" was composed of a large and representative class of citizens, and was open to all citizens regardless as to any local issue. As to the statement that "the leaders in the movement were the men who were pushing Pat Calhoun for United States senator against John B. Gordon' I have this to say: This question never was mentioned, and I do not suppose a single member of the club ever thought of it. This is one of the many efforts used by those op posed to a conservative movement to defeat this movement, and is a slur on the gentlemen composing that club.

Président Citizens' Conservative Club.

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: A writer in yesterday's Journal, signed "H. C. W." declares the fact that for mayor, aldermen and councilmen, and is glad that the 1890 club refused to endorse any one. This would be good campaign material if it were no true that the 1890 club has been for over a mont trying to get up a ticket, have actually endorsed one, and has in the past three elections in this county taken an active part in electing those endorsed by that club. The movement of conservative citizens is intended to meet the work of Mr. A. A. Murphey and his crowd of agitators.

CONSERVATIVE,

Hon. Anton L. Kontz for Mayor.

The candidacy of this gentleman for the mayoralty meets the hearty response of the people. A man of the people, born and raised in the city, the universal verdict is, that there is not one to say aught against him. Kind and just in all his relations; honest, decided and efficient as a public servant, imbued with a progressive spirit, able to see the right and firm to do it, he has all the qualifications to make a mayor of the city of whom the people would be proud. Young, vigilant, active and intelligent, every interest in his hand would be carefully, faithfully and intelligently guarded. It is remarkable that not one word of detraction has been said against him; all alke affirming his ability, fidelity, honesty and decision of character. We predict that the people who know him so well and so favorably will elect him to the mayoralty of the city.

Last night there was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Mr. Brown, called by the young men's campaign committee to shape everything for Friday's primary. Every interest in the city was represented.

Working committees were appointed and assigned to duty for each voting precinct, and from every portion of the city the most encouraging reports were, it is stated, made as to the condition of the canvass.

The contest is a three-cornered one, and the The contest is a three-cornered one, and the great interest centers in the mayoralty race. Mr. Brown has many friends throughout the city, and this fact accounts for the very large number that were present. Nothing was done so far as aldermen and councilmen were concerned, and the entire session was devoted to appointing working committees in the interest of Mr. Brown.

A Card From Mr. Jeffries.

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: Permit me to express as far as words are capable, the thorough appreciation I have felt and the lasting gratitude I am under to my many friends in all the wards of the city, and especially the fifth ward, for their expressions of approval and earnest efforts in behalf of my candidacy for councilman from the fifth ward.

Secret clubs have dictated the nomination for our ward. I was not the choice of the "bosses," nor did I seek to be. I cannot be sacrificed; therefore, I am out. Very truly,

T. H. JEFFRIES.

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: Some ten days ago we announced T. H. Jeffries as the people's candidate from the fifth ward. It was with great reluctance Mr. Jeffries submitted to the use of his name. Recognizing his special fitness and pre-eminent ability, we were very anxious to secure his services to the ward and city in council. A thorough canvass of the ward demonstrated his almost universal popularity. The secret political organizations of the city have anticipated the regular nomination by the people. The oath-bound clubs of two opposing factions have, strange to say, united upon a man for our ward who is most emphatically not the choice of the ward or any respectable part thereof. To still insist upon the continued candidacy of Mr. Jeffries would simply be to sacrifice, him. Therefore, we withdraw him unpledged and unsullied from this race.

Hall was put on the stand, after being duly

Hall's evidence was, on the whole, about the same as that for which he is now being tried for per-jury. He states most positively that he did not make a deed to Goodwyn, as alleged, nor has he any knowledge of any such deed. He says, further, that he did not remove a deed or papers put into his satchel by Joe Hamilto as alleged, nor has he also knowledge of the papers. He says that he never had any conersation with Hamilton in regard to such deed drawn by Hall.

It was the impression of Colonel Hardeman that no such parties, or at least these particular Smiths, had ever existed.

Hall, however, swore that William Smith was an old man who lived in Wilcox county, while Joe Smith was a younger man and a son of William Smith. He gave a minute description of the two Smiths, never failing to have a prompt answer for every question asked by Colonel Hardeman. The two Smiths, Hall said, claimed the lands to which the deed was made, and called in time to draw up the deed for them.

It was the general opinion of all that it would be a tedious task to find those Smiths, even after such a fine description as was given by Hall.

SEVERAL WEDDINGS OF INTEREST IN ATLANTA AND GEORGIA.

A Brilliant Debut Party-Miss Dooly's Reception-Other Events and Points
About People.

The debut of Miss Frances Harwood has long been looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by her many friends and admirers. Not only has the entrance of this young girl given to Atlanta society another charming presence, but it has caused a number of delightful entertainments to be given in her honor. A desire for society is inherent in human nature, and it is a matter for congratulation that Mrs. Harwood decided on a series of small artistic entertainments, instead of a great security. One of the sories cided on a series of small artistic entertainments, instead of a grand reception. One of the series, and perhaps the most delightful of all, occurred last evening in the shape of a theater box party. All the boxes at DeGive's opera house were engaged for the occasion, and a more brilliant sight cannot be imagined than that presented by these handsome boxes filled with their gay array of beautifully gowned women and elegant ap pearing men. The selection of the play was an exhibition of excellent taste on the part of Mrs Harwood, as there is no more attractive comedy on the stage than that which was presented last evening. "Peg Woffington" is replete with beauty, sprightliness and wit, while underlying all is an earnestness of purpose and a nobleness of character that cannot fail to win the admiration and hearty sympathy of an audience. It is a play worthy of being graced by

Perhaps no more dainty or becoming costume worn in Atlanta than the o evening by Miss Frances Harwood. Simplicity was its great charm. It was a princess gown of palest turquoise blue, which enhanced the beauty of the wearer's clear olive complexion. It was trimmed with daintly designed lace.
With this costume she were white glores and shoes and carried in her hand a bouquet of white

THE GEORGIA GIRLS.

WILL HAVE A SPLENDID NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE.

Milledgeville and the Whole State Are Proud of It-Laying of the Corner Stone.
All About the Institution.

Milledgeville is proud of the Girls' Normal and Industrial college.

The citizens of that historic old town are making great preparations to celebrate in a becoming way the laying of the corner stone of the college next Thursday, the 27th instant.

It will be a great day in the history of Georgia and the good people of Milledgeville will see to it that the occasion lacks nothing of the great interest that it is calculated to call

Several days ago, Colonel Bob Whitfield, the member of the house from Baldwin, made a speech in the hall of representatives inviting the legislature to attend in a body the laying of the corner stone of this great institution. Yesterday a committee of citizens, representing Miledgeville, came to Atlanta, to make that invitation formal, and to arge the members of the general assembly to accept the hospitality of their city, so graciously offered.

That committee consisted of Mayor P. J. Cline, Major J. Colton Lynes, Messrs. W. T. Coner, W. W. Lumkin, William Carraker, R. W. Roberts, Joseph E. Pettle, S. Barrett George D. Case, Captain Pottle, S. Barrett, George D. Case, Captain T. F. Newell and R. N. Lamar.

These gentlemen reached Atlanta yesterday morning and brought cordial messages to the legislators, to Governor Northen and his staff and to Hon. Joseph E. Brown, going before them to tender memorial invitations for them to be present at their grand celebration on the 27th.

HANDSOME INVITATIONS. The committee spared no efforts in the preparation of their invitations. They were handsomely engraved and framed, and will be kept by those to whom they were presented for years yet to come. One of the invitations was especially unique and beautiful in its ashien, and was brought by the committee to Mrs. Atkinson, the wife of Representative Atkinson, of Coweta, who is author of the bill establishing this grand institute for the young wemanhood of Georgia. The invitation is engraved on white satin and represents a large arch built upon pillars representing all the branches of study to be aught at the college. In the center of the arch is inscribed the following:

"To Mrs. W. Y. Atkinson, in com-memoration of the inspiration of a noble Georgia woman, the city of Mil-ledgeville extends this memorial invitation to honor the city with her-presence Thursday, November 27, 1890, and in the laying of the corner stone of the Girls' Normal and Indus-trial college to witness the realization of her hope and to receive the blessings of the daughters of Georgia."

The invitation was designed by Major J. Colton Lynes, president of the Middle Georgia Military and Agricultural college of Georgia at Milledgeville. THEY WILL GO. The members of the general assembly will to to Milledgeville. A special train has been engaged by the cit-zens of Milledgeville to take them there and oring them back, without expense to them-

The train will leave Atlanta on the Georria railroad next Wednesday night at 11 clock with sleeping cars for the comfort of every member, and will arrive at Milledgerille at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The day will be spent most pleasantly in Milledgeville, the citizens having arranged for the entertainment of their guests a huge bar-been and a royal feast.

The special train will leave Milledgeville Thursday night, at whatever hour may please the members of the general assembly.

No time will be lost from work in the legislative halls, it being Thanksgiving Day and a legal holiday. The trip will abound with enjoyment for all.

Inside the building will be the lecture rooms, the library and offices of the faculty, while the old executive mansion will be fitted up for the boarding apartments of the school.

TO GRANIZE THE FACULTY.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Girls' Normal and Industrial college, held in Atlanta last Monday, it was decided that the president of the college should be elected at a meeting to be held in Milledgeville in Thursday after the fourth Monday in January next. The other members of the faculty will be elected until laring the summer of 1891.

A NOBLE WOMAN'S WORK.

To Mrs. Atkinson, the wife of the distinguished member of the house who framed the bill establishing this grand institution, is due the praise for the inspiration of its origin. While speaking of the college yesterday, Mr. Atkinson said, in reply to offtrepeated congratulatory remarks: "I don't deserve the credit for it. I would, perhaps, never have thought of it as a living reality had it not been for my wife's persistence in moving me to introduce a bill for such a college as this.

"During my first five years' service in the louse she beyond me to introduce still have been desired in the louse she beyond me to introduce still have been desired in the louse she beyond me to introduce still have been desired in the louse she beyond me to introduce still have the louse she beyond me to introduce still have the louse she beyond me to introduce still have the louse she beyond me to introduce still have the louse she beyond me to introduce still have the louse she beyond me to introduce still here.

"During my first five years' service in the house she begged me to introduce the bill, but I thought the public mind was not ready for it then. I put it off until my second year in the legislature, when my wife succeeded in urging me to hasten the bill into the house, and it passed.

"This is the first step Georgia has taken to give higher advantages to her girls. She has been helping the boys for a century. The purpose of this college is to educate the girls, and aspecially those unable to take the expensive course in other colleges.

"It will equip them thoroughly as teachers and at once prepare them to become self-sustaining, and give to Georgia's schools better trained teachers. It is to be the corner stone of our common school system. It will give special training to girls in typewriting, book-koeping telegraphy, stemography, dressmaking and such other lines of industry as women may properly engage in to carn a living."

GEORGE LAWSHE'S CASE Tried in the Superior Court Yesterday

Afternoon The case of George Lawshe, who was killed in a collision on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway at Braswell, three years ago, was tried before Judge Marshall J. Clarke yesterday, at the Fulton superior court. Lawshe's widow sued the company for $25,000 on account of the homicide of her husband, and having introduced their evidence, the attorneys for the defendant company moved to non-suit the case on the ground that Lawshe was at the time of his death an employe of the railroad company, and that his evidence had not shown that he was free from fault. The motion was argued at great length by both sides and the judge decided in favor of the defendant, non-suiting the case. Messrs. Arnold & Arnold represen the plaintiff and Messrs. Dorsey & Howell the JUDGE VAN EPPS'S NEW BOOK. Van Epps's Index Digest of Georgia Reports.

BY HOWARD VAN RPPS, JUDGE OF THE CITY COURT OF ATLANTA.

An analytical index and digest of the supreme court reports of Georgia, from volume 62 to volume 81, inclusive, with annotations to the code of 1882. James P. Harrison & Co., publishers.

the code of 1852. James P. Harrison & Co., publishers.

The bar of the state of Georgia has been waiting with some impatience the appearance of this work. The great necessity for an index such as this, and the well-known ability of its author, have led those interested in law literature to expect much as a result of Judge Van Epps's labors. The book appears this week, and a careful perusal of its contents justifies us in the opinion, that it surpasses the expectations of the bar, and goes even beyond the limits of scope originally contemplated in the preparation of the work. The subdivisions of the index are new, and will be found convenient and complete, and the black-letter heading will facilitate the search for particular subjects. This volume, besides affording a complete digest of all the decisions of the supreme court of Georgia from volume 62 to volume 81, inclusive, enters a broader field than the usual report digests, and indexes all the intimations of importance occurring in any of the supreme court reports from volume 1 to the current number. In this particular, the work not only completes the indexes already published, but affords the practitioner an opportunity to lay his hands not only upon established doctrines of the law as decided in opinions delivered, but also upon those principles established doctrines of this work which we have briefly reviewed. It is a monument to the legal ability and discriminating taste of its author, who stands deservedly at the head of southern law writers. This volume should be in the library of every lawyer in the state, for it is only by a careful examination of the book that the bar can understand how great a benefit Judge Van Epps has conferred upon them. The work redicts great credit upon the publishers, Harrison & Co., of this city, and is quite equal to anything that can be done in the north or west. publishers.

Free Samples of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine at druggists. Cures Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Fits, etc.

A Tenacious Clutch Is that of dyspepsia. Few remedies do more than palliate this obstinate complaint. Try Hostetter's omach Bitters, however, and you will find that it is conquerable, along with its symptoms, heart-burn, flatulence, nervousness, and loss of flesh and vigor. Billousness and constipation fre-quently accompany it. These, besides malaria, rheumatic and kidney complaints, are also sub-duable with the Bitters.

A Pleasing Sense

Of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00

USE POND'S EXTRACT CATARRH

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAYS: A WELL-KNOWN NEW YORK PHY-SICIAN GIVES THIS ADVICE IN CASES OF CATARRH:

"The mucous membrane being relaxed an astringent is required to restore it to a healthy condition. POND'S EXTRACT is such an astringent. Used as a gargle, wash, or injection it is exceedingly beneficial."

WHAT THE PATIENT SAYS:

"I have been a constant sufferer for years (from about Nov. 1st until the following June) from severe colds in my head and throat; in fact, the whole mucous tissue from the nose, down to and including the bronchial tubes, were more or less affected. It was fast developing Into CHRONIC CATARRH. I had tried most known remedies, and was finally persuaded last March to use POND'S EXTRACT. I snuffed it up my nose and inhaled it; gargled my throat with it and swallowed it. It relieved me wonderfully and has effected almost a radical cure. I have used it for burns, bruises, and sprains, and believe it in-valuable in such cases. I believe also that no family should be without it in the house, feeling as I do that it comprises a whole Pharmacopæia within itself. -FREDERIC E. FINCK.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock NEW YORK, November 19. — [Special.] — Last night there were cabled to London alarming rumors which had been current here during the day about certain large and influential houses on the street being in fidancial trouble and predicting further failures and a gloomy outlook altogether. There were reflected back here this morning in the shape of rumors that large houses in London were on the verge of bankruptcy and as the effects of last night's cables were seen in the London market in panicky feelings and sharp losses in American stocks, and this market was opened from 1 to 3½ per cent lower than last night's prices. That circulators of rumors stood ready to take advantage of the situation created by false reports, however, was proven by the ex-cellent demand for stocks all along the line at concessions, and the lowest prices offthe day were reached during the first five minutes, while only a few stocks went below the opening figures. To many the reasons for the drive at the market yesterday through Pacific Mail, Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific were made plain when it was an-nounced that the Pacific Mail people had sur-rendered to Jay Gould, and that his son, George rendered to Jay Gould, and that his son, George would become president of the company. Stories circulated on the street in regard to firms doing business here are, many of them, scandalous in extreme and some of them may imitate the example of S. V. White if they can collect evidence enough against disseminators of the rumor that the market had no more than opened here when private advices from London came denying the stories sent early and posting of a notice by the Bank of England that it would not call loans the Bank of England that it would not call loans created a materially better feeling there, which was soon reflected here in purchases by foreign houses and cessation of sales by arbitrage houses. The monetary situation here showed a marked improvement as the day wore along, and buying assumed larger proportions immediately, while purchases of securities by investors show no diminution. The oversold condition of the market was revealed by high loaning rates for stocks, several commanding a premium, Burlington 1 per cent and Jersey Central, New York Central and Lake Shore 11-16, and Reading and Louisville and

NEW YORK, November 18-3:45 p. m.-The feeling before the opening of the board this morn-ing was decidely bearish. Names of pr-minent houses were handed about as though one-half of Wall street was insolvent. The newspapers pubshed under sensational headings the story that a large banking house in London was on the brink of financial collapse. The quotations for Amer-ican securities cabled from the American ex-change showed a decline of one-half to three and one-half points below our clear and change showed a decline of one-half to three and one-half points below our close, and a look of anxiety and suspense was evident on the faces of all. It was therefore considerable of a surprise that although our market opened lower than it closed, there was no marked weakness, and the lowest prices were made at the opening, the market showing a steady improvement from that out, gaining strength as it advanced. The principal reason for increase in strength was the entire absence of any reports of financial trouble, no houses showing any weakness in any respect. Then the easy money, and next, better reports from London, which showed considerable claerity in advancing on the improved feeling here. The strength was pretty well distributed through the entire list, and the buying was noticeably good and that in spite of the fact that in my prominent commission houses declined to purchase stocks on march in the present series of the fact stocks. mission houses declined to purchase stocks on margin in the present state of the money market, igh call money was easier, and was obble at from 6 per cent to 8 per cent during the most of today's session, time money is as yet en-most of today's session, time money is as yet en-tirely unobtainable, and until it is we cannot ex-pect people to willing'y load up with securities on which, at any moment, they may be unable to borrow. There was a story current in the street today that at a meeting held last night an arrangement was made by which all members of the anti-Gould party will retire from the directory of the Pacific Mall and the representatives of the Gould interest take their places. Mr. George Gould will again become president. This led to some improved feeling in that stock and averted trouble which it was claimed was likely to be caused by blocks of the stock being held in an insecure way. Later in the day it was said that in order to avoid an advance in Bank of England rate which tight money in the continental exchanges would seem to indicate would be dene to-morrow, the government had authorized the bank to suspend the bank act, thus putting it in a position to issue an unlimited amount of paper should the situation require it. Should this be true it will materially help a return of confidence, especially if during the next few days there are no failures. will materially help a return of confidence, espe-cially if during the next few days there are no

Stock on hand..... Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular. NEW YORK, November 19—[Special]—Early ca-bles from London this morning reported extreme moralization on the stock exchange there, and the general expectations that the bank act would the general expectations that the bank act would be suspended tomorrow. The effect of such suspension would be to enable the Bank of England to issue bank notes without regard to its specie reserve, and would be practical though temporary inflation. Under the pressure of this situation the Liverpool market had declined before noon today some 6 points on the near positions and 4 on the distant, and the New York opening was about 12 points under last picht. These prices proved to 12:points under last night. These prices proved to be the lowest touched, and the covering of shorts, both here and in Liverpool, combined with late ad-vices from London rather more reassuring in character, resulted in a sharp recovery, this market closing at last night's prices, while the net decline in Liverpool is 4 on the near and 3 on the distant positions. A large short interest has been covered both here and in Liverpool, and to that exten ered both here and in Liverpool, and to that extent the market is weakened. The pressure of actual cotton still continues at the south, and the accu-mulation of stock is becoming an important fea-ture. The three towns of Memphis, Augusta and St. Louis have added 20,000 bales to their stock during the week thus far, and as soon as exchange becomes more salable this accumulation will no doubt be directed toward Liverpool. Under the circumstances, and without some very mexpected relief to the financial situation abroad, it would seem as if the pressure of actual cotton must effect its natural words, lower relief.

feet its natural result-namely, lower prices. By Private Wire to Youngblood & Hans NEW YORK, November 19.—In response to weak and disquieting Liverpool news our market opened at a decline of 10@15 points. During the day was steady, and just before the close became firm and recovered the greater portion of the early decline. The improvement is due to the early decline. The improvement is due to the fact that stocks close strong and owing to more confidence in financial circles, the day having passed without any further reports of failures. Money having ruled easy and exchange rather more salable after the recent depression, it is only rational to expect some reactions. We, however, do not look for any permanent improvement just LEHMAN BROS.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Fentures of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions CHICAGO, November 19—The markets from the extremity of the demoralization at the opening recovered some semblance of returning calm after the middle of the session, and following sensational declines, prices gradually recovered and averaged higher at the close today than at the corresponding time yesterday. May wheat, after declining 2½c, not only recovered this loss entirely, but added 3/c to yesterday's closing quotations. Corn closed without change since yesterday after a spell of radical weakness. Oats made a slight loss. Pork declined 2½c and lard and ribs closed at an advance of 2½65c. In the wheat pit, which was the center of excitement prevailing at the opening, buyers kept their mouths closed for the moment, and accordingly a deafening noise went up simultaneously with the signal to begin from the throats of panic-stricken holders. May, which vesterday afternoon closed at 98½, was vainly offered at 97, and not until sellers appeared willing to accept 96½ did buyers come forth peared willing to accept 98% did buyers come forth in any great numbers. Transactions took place at the same moment at 96% and 96%. There may have been a trade or two at 97, and there were certarily some at 36. December was almost smoth-ered out of hearing when business started, May now having secured a greater part of 2he patron-age of speculators. It was offered at anywhere from 53% to 88% at the commencement, with some transactions passing at both extremes. All the demoralization indicated by the foregoing proceeded from the apprehension of some pending peril. There was nothing in the usual governing influences before business started to account for an increase of the panicky feeling which pre-vailed. Cables, it is true, reported that the Eng-lish market for breadstuffs was weak and wheat lower, but less than this could not have ben expected to follow yesterday's weakness here. There was free covering of shorts at the opening of the market, and so long as the price of December kept down around 89 and May remained in the neigh-borhood of 96% 20-7, and later there was considerable buying on long account. The feeling of alarm was replaced by one of inoderate hopeful-ness, while reports from New York brought no tidings of any fresh disaster there, and quotations for stocks showed an improving market for good securities. May in the course of the last half hour's business advanced to 931/4, reacted to 98 and had a strong closing.

Corn—The market was the scene of wild commotion at the commencement, and heavy transactions were recorded during the first half hour. Shorts were the only buyers in sight, and heavy lines of those outstanding contracts were wound up at the expense of disappointed sellers of long orn. The opening price for May was 50%, and it sold at 50½ within a minute or two thereafter, and there was a quick recovery to 51½. Prices re-mained within the limits of 51 and 51½ for a considerable time and then became firmer, advancing to 521/4. There was very little trading in the other futures.

Oats opened wild and unsettled with sales for May at 1@1%c decline and quickly receded %c more. After the flurry subsided a better feeling developed, and there appeared to be as much de-sire to buy as there had previously been to sell, and prices advanced 2c, and the market closed steady at a net decline of 11/6217/c from yesterday. Pork—Trading very heavy, accompanied with frequent and wide fluctuations in prices. Prices on whole-range declined (0 @66c. At the decline the demand improved, and as there was less pressure to sell, prices gradually rallied 50%50c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Lard-A very brisk trade was reported. The opening sales were made at 7½@10c decline, and this was quickly followed by a further reduction of 10c. Later the demand improved and prices rallied 20@225c. and closed comparatively steady. Short rib sides—More interest than usual, and trading was quite heavy at an irregular range of prices. The opening sales were made at 5c de-cline, and a further reduction of 10c was quickly submitted to. At the decline buyers were more inclined to take hold, and prices rallied 15@171/gc, and closed comparatively steady. The leading futures ranged as follows in Chi-

CHICAGO, November 19.—2:30 p. m.—There is a perceptible difference between the opening and closing markets od the Chicago board of trade today. It was literally a change from grave to gay. The early feeling was intensely weak, and prices of wheat and provisions showed considerable de-cline from the close of last night. Corn and oats were affected, but not so much. The struggle was brief. The chief feature was the selling out of weak holders and good strong parties buying for an investment. Their example was infectious, and prices ran back quickly, December selling at 92c and May at 99c around the close. Unless the financial sky should become darker once m than the low point this morning. The feeling is strong in the theory that strong parties have hold not very far from the high point established when wheat was 16c per bushel higher, and one can wheat was fee per busner higher, and one can hardly expect the same reaction that is looked for in the latter grain.

Provisions opened rather demoralized, but good buying firmed the market and prices advanced quickly. Think the bear fever has run its course.

of Colonel E. B Stahlman, who has resigned to look after his important business RIMENT Judge Wood is a native of Alabama. He is a gentleman of high character and fine legal attainments, and has been a member of the g Comp'ny Alabama senate, and also a judge of one of the courts of that state. He will enter upon the duties of his new position on December 1st. His reputa-tion names it safe to predict that he will be a worthy successor of Colonel Stahlman.

NEWS OF THE RAIL.

The New Third Vice President of the Louisville and Nashville-Items of Interest to Railroad Men

Judge W. J. Wood, of Evansville, Ind., is in the city for a few days. The judge was, on Monday last, elected third vice president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, in place

"You have a very fine city here," said the judge to a Constitution reporter Yesterday afternoon, "and the climate here is delightful.
"My town, Evansville, is not quite as large as Atlanta, but the same scene of bustle pre-vails there as here. At the census of 1880 we en a population of about 29,000, while nt census places it at 50,000, an increase in ten years of 21,000. Although we tre falling behind in the rapid race set by our outhern rivals our growth is nevertheless steady and substantial. "The new acquisitions are mostly Germans and I must say that as citizens they are par excellence, steady, frugal, and hardworking. Their influence is plainly felt in all that pertains to the city's general

"Evansville has become celebrated among the traveling Thespians as possessing one of the finest theaters in the United States. The public-spirited citizens of the city, realizing the great need of a public hall there, by private subscription defrayed the entire cost of a mag-nificent structure, a part of which is given up to the opera house, another part to the hall of the Chamber of Commerce, and the remainder of the space to stores. The total cost was

"Great quantities of furniture are manufacured in Evansville. Another big industry the making of beer. Several nev breweries are about to be erected there. I understand that an English syndicate has meer nosing around with tempting offers for he well-established plants, but all negotia-ions, for the present at least, have fallen through. There are also large cotten and iron

"There seems to be an inexhaustibly supply of coal immediately under the city. There are at least five mines right in the town and all are steadily worked. Coal is sold for man-facturing purposes for 75 cents per ton, which neludes the cost of delivery."

Mr. Wood is one of the most prominent men in Evansville, and has vast business interests there. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce at the tast term. He is now president, manager and part owner of the Evansville and Newbury railroad, a short line, but one that seldom fails to yield its quarterly dividend.

He is also president of the Evansville Ice and Cold Storage Company, which owns and perates a plant with a producing capacity of 00 tons of artificial ice per day. The net rofits of the concern last year were $50,000, and it promises to more than equal that nount in 1890.

Judge Wood brings a ripe experi mee to bear upon his new position, having been for years district attorney of the Louisville and Nashville road, his territory embracing the states of Indiana and Illinois.

He has not as yet fixed his headquarters, but is of the opinion that Nashville is the most

Colonel Stahlman has given the best part of his life to railroad work, and now retires with the consciousness of duty well performed. He will give a few months to the recuperation of his physical resources, and will thereafter devote his entire time and energy to his own private interests, which are extensive and that the services of a man of acute discernment, great enterprise, and powerful mind, all of which qualities are possessed in the greatest degree by Colonel Stahlman, can illy be

Colonel Stahlman received a telegram yesterday concerning the truth of a rumor that he had been elected first vice president of the Queen and Crescent railroad, and replied that the whole matter was news to him, and that he had nothing to say about it.

Work is being pushed and great progress is being made upon the new railroad, to be called the Alabama Mineral, between Syla-cauga and Calera. The greatest difficulty has been encountered between Calera and Shelby. It is expected that that portion between Shelby and Syla-cauga will be ready for use before the close of this menth. This road passes through several of the richest coal districts in Alabama, and its course extends in almost a straight line in the irection of Atlanta. At Calera it will connect with roads leading directly to Montgomery and Selma, and the distance from Atlanta to Selma would not be much greater by this route than over the proposed direct road from Atlanta to Selma. There is a strong probability that the road will, in the near future, be extended further to the westward from Calera, and in that event would furnish At-lanta and central Georgia with important communication with central Mississippi.

The stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad held a meeting Monday, and after devoting considerable time to a sort of mutual admiration levee, during which congratulations and compliments were freely interchanged over the phemenal year of prosperity the road has been ssed with, proceeded to elect the following board of directors:

James Sloan, Jr., William F. Burns, Decatur H. Miller, William H. Blackford, Aubrey Pearce, George DeB. Keim, Wesley A. Tucker, Maurice Gregg, J. Willox Brown, William F. Frick, George A. Von Lingen, George C. Jenkins. The president of the company is not necessarily a member of the board of directors, but is chosen by them. In addition to the twelve gentlemen named above there are two more directors, Messrs. J. McKenney White and J. William Baughman, who reprewhite and J. William Baughman, who represent the state of Maryland's stock in the Washington branch, and are appointed by the Baltimore board of public works. In all there are 197,846 shares of common and preferred stock entitled to a vote, and so are holders in the Washington branch, but the company company owns nearly all of that stock.
Judge George W. Dobbin was present as the representative of the Johns Hopkins university's preferred ttock. The next regular meeting of the bod of directors will be held on Wednesday, December 17th, and President Mayer will in all likelimed by

The action taken by the Colorado Passenger Agents' Association on advertising turns out to be of a somewhat important character. The tentiment of their agreement is to the effect that nowspapers furnish the best and most effi-cient modius. cient medium for railroad advertising.

Heretofore it has been the custom for the where space equid be secured. The agreements were not always for cash. Solicitors, anxious for a bargain, were willing to accept transportation, or, indeed, any convertible consideration which would repay them for the publication. Directories, pamphlets, flyleaves of books, circulars, guides and innumerable other prints have been the subjects of patronage from the passenger agents. CONNECTION BETWEEN CENTRAL GEORGIA AND MISSISSIPPI.

Captain J. S. Foster, chief engineer, with : full corps of assistants, has just reached Grenada, Miss., completing the survey of the Nashville and Mississippi Delta railroad from Okolona to Grenada, a distance of sixty-five and nine-tenths miles. Captain Foster is much ssed with the magnificent territory through which this line runs, and from the topography of the country, thinks it can be built very cheap. The people all along the line, with very few exceptions, are anxious for the road to come and are enthusiastic over its

The wooden ties now in use upon the tracks of the United States number 515,832,918. The average life of a wooden tie in this country is six and a half years. Every year, therefore, calls for 80,000,000 new ties. The interest in this subject is well shown by the fact that 491 patents have been issued in this country to inventors of substitutes for wooden ties. One ingenious individual has pretected an idea for glass ties. An Englishman has taken out letters in his own country, the United States, France, Belgium and Spain for a tubular tfe made of concrete or some other composition to be cast around a core of wire netting.

One proposition is to manufacture rails, ties be cast around a core of wire netting.

One proposition is to manufacture rails, ties and other articles of trackage from a composition of paper pulp, silicate of soda and barytes. The proportions are 500 parts pulp, twenty-five parts soda and ten parts barytes. Two inventors, working jointly, have evolved the suggestion of terra cotta or earthenware pyramids to support the rails. The pyramids are to be connected by iron metal ties. An earlier device is a concrete tie with wooden blocks inserted for the rails to be spiked upon.

The idea of a metal skeleton or frame-work tie, covered with concrete or artificial stone,

The idea of a metal skeleton or frame-work tie, covered with concrete or artificial stone, comes from France to be patented. Concrete blocks, with cork plates for the rails to rest upon, are suggested. Concrete chairs and blocks and composition of fiber coaked with asphaltum and shaped by pressure were among the earlier designs. But of the 401 patented substitutes for wood all but eleven are metal.

The constant rains of the past week have created such a rise in the waters and caused such big washouts in the vicinity of Paducah, Ky., that all trains have been delayed. The Newport News and Misssissippi Valley has been off schedule for several days. Owing to several washouts there have been no trains running over the Paducah, Tennessee and Alabama for two days. running over the Padu Alabama for two days.

It is not generally known that in sixteen months more the interest on the Texas and Pacific second mortgage incomes becomes a fixed charge, and in default of the payment of the interest the road may pass to the control of the holders of those bonds. Following is the text of one of the provisions of the mortgage: "On and after March I, 1892, the trustees of the mortgage securing this bond, in case of non-payment of full interest at 5 per cent per annum, shall, on request of the holders of not less than one-third of the bonds outstanding, enter into possession of the mortgaged property, and manage the same under the direction of a committee appointed by a majority of the bondholders until payment of interest in full."

The Macon and Birmingham railroad will be running trains from Macon to Woodbury in a Boston, November 17.—The statement of the Union Pacific entire system for September shows: Gross earnings, $4,053,946; increase, $118,638; net, $1,563,544; decrease, $141,067. For nine months ending September 30: Gross, $32,703,585; increase, $3,769,158; net, $10,711,-021; decrease, $183,803.

The annual report of the Petersburg railroad shows that the gross receipts for the past year have been $505,339.04; disbursements, $448, $89.74. The bonded debt was increased $30,000. Warren G. Elliott has been elected president, in place of Colonel J. B. Palmer, resigned; Mr. H. Walters, vice president. Directors, Messrs. W. T. Walters, H. Walters, B. F. Newcomer, Fred R. Scott and D. W. Lassiter.

The annual report of the Richmond and Petersburg road, which is controlled by the same management as the Petersburg road, shows: Gross receipts from transportation, $325,304.34; operating expenses, $224,481.34; net receipts $100,822; receipts from investments, $17,166.68; total net revenue, $117,489.12. During the past year a mortgage of $1,000,000 has been executed upon the property of the road. This provides for the payment of the outstanding mortgage of 1875, amounting to $400,000. The old officers of the road have been re-elected. Mr. Elliott was made a director instead of Colonel Palmer.

The Chesapeake and Ohio continues to show large earnings, the first week in the month reaching $141,420, increase over the corresponding week last year of $12,763.

At the head of all blood-purifiers is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. But it's different from all of them. Whatever is claimed for this, it's guaranteed to do. The money is refunded in every case where it fails to benefit or cure. It's because it is different that it can be sold so. All diseases originating from a torpid liver or impure blood yield to it. It cleanses and purifies the system, freeing it from all manner of bloodpoisons, no matter from what cause they have arisen. For Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, or any blood-taint or disorder, it is an unequaled remedy. Nothing else can take its

I never was strong and I married a delicate lady. We traveled much in search of health but we remained invalids until we began a use of Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. We both are now in better health and feel stronger.—R.*A. Mathews, Harrisburg, Pa.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING,

So Are All, or Nearly All, of the Ladies to Our Store. If you want a fruit cake that is a veritable fruit cake, one that is thoroughly ripe, and will please the Christmas palate, now is the time to make it. the Christmas palate, now is the time to make it. Before making though be sure that you come and see our citron, our currants, our raisins, shelled almonds, figs, etc. Our citron runs large, clear and fancy, and is the finest quality in Atlanta. Our currants are Vostizza's, the largest, cleanest and cost two and one-half cents per pound higher, but we will sell them at the same low price of last year. Our shelled almonds are Jordan stock, the finest, cleanest and are used largely by our best patrons. Our figs are extra selected 6 crown, and twice as large as those sold by other houses. Come and see them, and when advising your friends where to go to get ingredients for their cake send them to us. The next thing is pure, absolutely pure spices; don't buy any thing but pure solutely pure spices; don't buy any thing but pure spices, they are the cheapest, and really have more to do with the fine flavor of your cake than any other one thing. We give a guarantee upon every grain, every ounce. Ours is the purest money and knowledge in business can buy. Plum pudding, shreded cocoanut, unsweetened; large fancy 30-5 size prunes, go, all go to make up the fall delica-cies. Then, too, we have all the herbs used for your turkeys—such as marjoram, thyme, savory and sage, all in large packages at low prices. Ours, too, is this year's packing, and consequently fresh. The sale of our Talo tea and Rijamo coffee are still not up to the merit of the goods, and we ask you to try one pound, we will abide by your decision. We claim to be experts on both tea and coffee. Of course we do not give $1.00 tea and coffee. Of course we do not give $1.00 worth of presents with every 50 cents worth of each, but we will almost give you $1.00 value for 50 cents, so try us. Come and try our home-made jellies and preserves, they are the best. We guarantee satisfaction, both in the service and quality of all our goods. We will cheerfully refund money when you are not pleased with any article bought in our store. Write or send for any thing nice in the grocery line. We cater to the best patronage.

DEMANDS

That only honest and reliable medicines should be placed upon the market. It cannot, therefore, be stated too emphatically, nor repeated too often, that all who are in need of a genuine Blood-purifier should be sure and ask for

Ayer's

Sarsaparilla. Your life, or that of some one near and dear to you, may depend on the use of this well-approved remedy in preference to any other preparation of similar name. It is compounded of Honduras sarsaparilla (the variety most rich in curative properties), stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, and the iodides. The process of manufacture is original, skilful, scrupulously clean, and such as to secure the very best medicinal qualities of each ingrédient. This medicine is not boiled nor heated, and is, therefore, not a decoction; but it is a compound extract, obtained by a method expound extract, obtained by a method ex-clusively our own, of the best and most powerful alteratives, tonics, and diureties known to pharmacy. For the last forty

has been the standard blood-purifier of the has been the standard blood-purifier of the world—no other approaching it in popular confidence or universal demand. Its formula is approved by the leading physicians and druggists. Being pure and highly concentrated, it is the most economical of any possible blood medicine. Every purchaser of Sarsaparilla should insist upon having this preparation and see that each bottle bears the well-known name of

J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

In every quarter of the globe Ayer's Sar. saparilla is proved to be the best remedy for all diseases of the blood. Lowell druggists unite in testifying to the superior excellence of this medicine and to its great popularity
